inflationary indices.

The Committee is expected to review the financial needs of the polytechnics as contained in the earlier report in line with the present day inflationary indices; look more closely at the report with a view to updating it to be in consonance with government view and aspirations of a polytechnic as well as any other matter that will enrich the report and guide the Hon. Minister in the implementation of the report.

The Committee which is expected to submit its report within one week has as its Chairman, the Rector of Kwara State Polytechnic, Ilorin, Dr. Masud Elelu, while the Deputy Director, Finance & Accounts of NBTE, Mr. Jonathan Anyanwu is to serve as the Secretary.

Other members are: Arc. Olusegun Aluko, Rector of Federal Polytechnic, Ilaro, Ogun State; Dr. Sa'id Umar Jen, Rector of Federal Polytechnic, Bali, Taraba State; and Patience Edoimioya, Rector of Edo State Institute of Technology, Usen.

Also included are representatives of Academic Staff Union of Polytechnics (ASUP), representative of Non-academic Staff Union of Polytechnics, (NASU) and Senior Staff Association of Nigerian Polytechnics, (SSANIP).

... Tasks Educational Institutions on Relevance of Curriculum to Needs of Industry, as Auchi Poly Holds 24th Convocation

The Hon. Minister of Education, Mal. Adamu Adamu has reiterated government's commitment towards strengthening the capacity of polytechnics to train competent persons in human resource management, which he said has remained the only capable means of ensuring sustainable economic and technological development in the country.

Speaking at the 24th convocation ceremony of Auchi Polytechnic, Auchi, Edo State on Saturday, 16th September, 2017, the minister said one of the biggest problems confronting the nation is that of unemployment.

'Every year, educational institutions turn out graduates who end up being jobless. It is arguable whether these graduates turned out

According to the Minister, 'Government believes that solving the problem of unemployment will ultimately be addressed through technical and vocational education and training (TVET)'. He added that 'Institutions of higher learning are urged to develop and inculcate in the youths appropriate attitudes and give career guidance and choices that will enable the youth to engage in lifelong learning and development'.

While stressing the good agricultural potential of the country, the minister enjoined institutions to ensure that youths are trained to tap into these potentials. "Government decision to diversify the economy is based on the consideration that there are several opportunities for self-employment especially in the agricultural value chain'.

The minister commended the Ag. Rector of the Polytechnic for his efforts in infrastructural development and for restoring peace and stability in the institution. 'Government is satisfied with the pace of infrastructural growth and expansion of the institution, its robust staff development policy and the high level of information and communication technology penetration in the institution', he said.

He however admonished all TVET institutions to engage in teaching, learning and research in such new areas that will turn around the fortunes of the country. 'I expect the TVET sector to focus on biotechnology, nanotechnology, renewable energy, railway engineering as well as aerospace technology'.

'Government believes that we can break the cycle of poverty and become truly prosperous if we accord TVET sector its rightful place by funding it properly and ensuring that such funds are properly utilized', he added.

In his address, the Governor of Edo State, Godwin Obaseki commended the Ag. Rector and the management for developing a pool of manpower to fill the growing technical development gap of the modern economy and for maintaining the standard of learning and level of discipline.

'There is no doubt that the polytechnic is meeting the desired objective of the founding fathers, which is to be a centre of excellence in technological education in Nigeria'. Adding that 'it is also responsive in addressing the technical and managerial manpower requirement of both the public and private sectors of the

No fewer than 247 young men and women were on Friday, 28th July, 2017 awarded diplomas and prizes at the 46th convocation ceremony of the Airforce Institute of Technology (AFIT), Kaduna.

The convocation ceremony which took place at the Ibrahim Alfa Auditorium of the Institute in Kaduna witnessed the attendance of very high dignitaries including the Chief of Air Staff and Visitor to the Institute, Air Marshal S.B. Abubakar, his Naval Staff counterpart, Rear Admiral Etak Ette Ebas and the Honourable Minister of Transportation, Rt. Hon. Chibuike Rotimi Amaechi who was also the Guest of Honour of the occasion, among others.

In his remark, the Provost of the Institute, Prof. (Engr.) E.O. Ezugwu said 247 students graduated in 16 programmes at the various levels of diplomas including 11 Postgraduate Diploma (PGD); 106 Higher National Diploma (HND) and 129 National Diploma (ND).

Prof. Ezugwu stated that in pursuant to the resolve to incorporate civilians in the Institute, a total of 119 of the graduands were civilians. While congratulating the graduands and their families for their efforts, the Provost urged the graduands to think outside the box to surmount challenges in their environment. "You have to work hard to impact on your environment and society at large and be good ambassadors of the Institute" he charged.

In his address, the Guest of Honour and Minister of Transportation, Rt. Hon. Chibuike Rotimi Amaechi said the Institution is dear to his Ministry in the production of manpower for the aviation industry even as it adds value to the Air force, nation and West African

Medical and Health Workers Union Visits NBTE

The Medical and Health Workers Union of Nigeria (MHWUN) were at the National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) Kaduna to pay a courtesy visit to the Executive Secretary, Dr. Masa'udu Adamu Kazaure.

Briefing the Executive Secretary on the visit, the head of the delegation and Registrar/CEO of the Union, Alh Umar Faruq Abubakar stated that they were at the board to discuss issues of mutual interest and also to request for the review of curriculum for X-Ray and Pharmacist Technician and Technologist. He said the union is trying its best to ensure harmony within the cadres and therefore appealed to the Board to look into the issues raised.

He added that the major problem of the union is leadership and supremacy and it is trying its best to bring back sanity and order to the union.

In his remarks, Mr. Emmanuel Udontre member of the Education Committee of the union called on the Executive Secretary to rescue the middle level man power in the health sector which is part of the mandate of the Board. He said that the Pharmacists and Radiographers are out to whittle down the role of the technicians and technologists.

He appealed to the Executive Secretary to review and upgrade the curriculum to fit into the emerging trend which will be for the benefit of the country at large. In his words "the health of the citizens is a major priority and cannot be achieved without the technical manpower." He called on the Executive Secretary to use his good office and rescue the middle man power.

In his response the Executive Secretary thanked the delegation for the visit, while expressing concern over lack of cooperation and understanding especially among health sector personnel. He said that a meeting will be scheduled for the unions so as to reach a truce on the issue and bring an end to the existing problems.

The Ag. Director Monotechnics Programmes Department Mrs. Helen Oduntan in her remarks said that due to the problems between the unions, the NBTE has stopped the accreditation process of Kano State Polytechnic and Moshood Abiola Polytechnic, therefore urging them to try and bring an end to the problem.

The union plans to partner with the Chinese micro phobia to establish an orthodox and Chinese hospital.

Agenda of President Buhari's administration.

He charged the graduands to be agents of positive change in the country and to prove their worth in their future endeavours.

Also, the Chairman of Governing Council and Visitor to the Institute, Air Marshal S.B. Abubakar who is also Nigeria's Chief of Air Staff, said the Institute is making giant strides in making the Nigerian Airforce self-sustaining through manpower development and contributing towards technological development of the country. The Air Chief noted that the knowledge gained from the Institute is vital to the force and to the nation for advancement of the fast growing aviation industry in the country.

While lamenting the dearth of funds to execute capital intensive aviation projects, the Chairman pledged continuous support to the institute to achieve its objectives.

Earlier in his address, the Commandant of the Institute Air

Vice Marshal I. Bukar said the convocation provides an opportunity for stocktaking and evaluation. He said all programmes offered by the Institute including Explosive Ordinance Technology have been accredited by the National Board for Technical Education (NBTE), adding that the Institute was about to mount the HND component of Explosive Ordinance Technology programme.

The Commandant said the Institute lacks the enabling law which he said the Bill was before the National Assembly for passage into law, stressing that the Institute has zero tolerance for examination malpractices.

He commended the Chief of Air Staff for the support to the Institute and other stakeholders including the NBTE, TETFund and NUC. Goodwill messages were delivered by the Federal University of Technology, Akure and Nigeria Defence Academy, Kaduna.

nation's economy'.

Also, the Ag. Rector of the Polytechnic, Tpl. (Dr.) Momodu Sanusi Jimoh said 18,010 students graduated in the 2015/2016 academic session and were awarded the National Diploma (ND) and Higher National Diploma (HND) certificates.

He said out of this number, 431 students had Distinction, 9197 graduated with Lower Credit while 5,135 graduated with Pass.

The rector urged the graduating students to remember at all times that they are the most potent advertisement for the polytechnic. Highlight of the ceremony was the conferment of fellowship awards of Auchi Polytechnic on the Hon. Ministers of Transport and Petroleum, Rt. Hon. Chibuike Amaechi and Engr. Dr Emmanuel Ibe Kachikwu for their contributions and steadfastness to the growth of the polytechnic.

TOPREC President Commends NBTE Scribe

The President of the Town Planners Registration Council of Nigeria (TOPREC) Tpl (Prof) Layi Egunjobi, FNITF has said that the Executive Secretary's vast knowledge and experience will be valuable in the repositioning of the National Board for Technical Education towards achieving the desired change agenda of the President by ensuring that all polytechnics in the country are sources of knowledge and entrepreneurship for wealth creation and economic development.

The President stated this during a courtesy visit to the Executive Secretary, National Board for Technical Education, Dr. Masa'udu Adamu Kazaure at the Board's secretariat in Kaduna.

He stated that the accreditation of Urban and Regional Planning programmes is key mandate of the TOPREC with the objective of creating and maintaining high standard for professional education and practice in Nigeria.

He called on the Executive Secretary to direct all Rectors of the polytechnics to ensure that only registered town planners are appointed as Director Physical Planning Unit in their respective institutions. He urged him to make it mandatory that campus master plan of polytechnics to be produced by only registered town planning consultants/ Town planning consultancy firm in the interest of professionalism in Nigeria.

Responding, Dr. Kazaure commended the TOPREC for the visit and assured that he will ensure the strict compliance of the 2007 procurement act which stipulates that only registered Town Planners gets the master planning job.

He urged the TOPREC to key into the National Vocational Speech after speech, the staff ceaselessly showered encomiums on the departing Director whom they described as an epitome of humility and hard work and wished him success in his future endeavours.

BCSN Seek's NBTE'S Support in Training

A delegation of Builders Construction and Skills Association in Nigeria was at the National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) to solicit for financial and training support.

Briefing the Board's Executive Secretary and Management, leader of the delegation and President of the Association, Alhaji Fasase Muhammed Jamiu said, the alarming rate of cases of collapsed buildings in Nigeria has become a major challenge confronting the association, adding that they were at the Board to seek guidance on how to sharpen their skills.

He said the artisans are left behind, and therefore stressed the need for improvement to be able to compete favorably with their counterparts.

BCSN delegation with ES NBTE (middle) during the meeting

Responding, the Executive Secretary, Dr. Masa'udu Kazaure applauded the Association's initiative which he described as brilliant and expressed the Board's readiness to assist the members in achieving their objectives.

Dr. Kazaure who briefed the delegation on National Vocational Qualification Framework (NVQF) said, he will make effort to ensure that members of the Association are certificated.

Also, the NVQF Desk Officer, Engr. Suleiman M Yusuf said there is possibility to move with the members of the Association by giving them a unit and see how they can professionalize. He said they have sensitized their staff and that are ready for all training to sharpen their competency.

KANMA Homes Enlightens NBTE Staff on Properties

The project Manager KANMA Homes, Aliyu Mohammed was at the National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) recently on a one day enlightenment talk with staff of the Board on steps to owning a property from KANMA in Kaduna Millennium City.

Addressing the staff, the Manager said KANMA Homes are estate managers capable of providing high quality houses at lower prices. He said the property developers have been in existence for a long time and have presently completed a project in Abuja with an ongoing one in Delta State and Kaduna Millennium City to make peoples dream of owning a house a reality especially that of civil servants who are to pay the mortgage for a maximum period of 25 years.

Mal. Mohammed said they have houses ranging from one to five bedroom apartments with modern facilities for human comfort, noting that “all you need to do, to own a house from the estate developers (KANMA) in Kaduna millennium city, you select a house of your choice, then you fill an application form and pay the sum of N5, 000 into one of the banks account listed by the developers after which you will be given an offer and your house will be ready in six months” the project manager explained.

In his remarks, the Director of Physical Planning and Development, Tpl. Ekpenyong .E.Ekpenyong who represented the Executive Secretary during the briefing, described the housing offer as a rare opportunity. He said being a private company they have the money and the land, he therefore urged the staff to utilize the opportunity whether or not they still have more years in service since payment would continue even after service.

Committee over their prompt responses in visiting their institutions, said it was heart-warming to hear that some Councils have constituted their statutory Committees and have commenced work in earnest.

He said the sector is faced with series of demands by the unions which include the non-implementation of the report of Needs Assessment conducted in 2014 for public polytechnics, non-payment of salaries by some state-owned polytechnics and persistent shortfall in the personnel cost of Federal Polytechnics.

Dr. Kazaure added that victimization of members and non-release of check-off dues in some polytechnics, non-payment of CONTISS 15 arrears and non-release of the White Paper of the Visitation Panels to some Federal Polytechnics are also of major concern to the polytechnic sector.

Other challenges according to the Executive Secretary include the non-implementation of the National Council on Education (NCE) resolution on removal of B.Sc./HND dichotomy, delay in review of the Polytechnic Act, non-commencement of renegotiation of the 2010 agreement as well as government tardiness in the appointment of rectors for some polytechnics among others.

He said though some of the demands were union-specific, others cut across all the unions and ASUP has been more strident in its demands leading to series of ultimatums to the government.

While enumerating some of the steps taken by the Board to sustain industrial peace on the campuses and guarantee uninterrupted academic calendar, the Executive Secretary said a multi-pronged approach was adopted, comprising dialogue with unions, reaching out to agencies responsible for addressing some of the problems like the office of the Accountant General of the Federation, Budget Office and the National Assembly.
